

The Hobbit Reading Journal

1. All answers that require writing must be in complete sentences to receive any credit. Pronouns may not be used unless their antecedent is used within the same answer.
2. Drawings must be labeled and colored with map pencils.
3. Charts and lists do not need to be in complete sentences, but information must be bulleted.
4. Direct quotes from the text must be written inside quotation marks and each must contain parenthetical documentation with the correct punctuation (See page 2).
5. No generalizations will receive credit.
6. You will be able to use your Reading Journal on your quizzes and tests. Any extra notes that are correctly formatted may be used as well.
7. Please beware that both movie versions of The Hobbit are totally awesome, but are extremely inaccurate. They both change the plot, combine characters, add non-existing characters, delete characters, skip parts, along with several other inaccuracies. Please be careful about watching either version of these movies before your big test. They will distort your perception of the book and therefore hurt your chances of passing. If you have already seen either of these film versions, please try your best to separate yourself from your preconceived notions of this book. On the other hand, watching The Lord of the Rings trilogy with your family is highly recommended and will be helpful in understanding The Hobbit. The Hobbit precedes (comes before) The Lord of the Rings on a timeline. However, The Lord of the Rings has a lot of accurate flashbacks alluding to The Hobbit along with many of the same characters and the same settings. The Lord of the Rings also goes into further detail about great battles before the time of The Hobbit and the history of Middle Earth, which can definitely be helpful in understanding The Hobbit and the important purpose of Bilbo's life and journey.

The Lord of the Rings trilogy includes: The Fellowship of the Ring, The Two Towers, and The Return of the King.

8. I, _____, understand that if I do not pass the final Hobbit test, I will not have the privilege of going on The Hobbit field trip to see the movie with my classmates right before Christmas break. I understand that there will be NO EXCEPTIONS to this rule. I understand that completing and doing my Reading Journal correctly will greatly help me in passing this test. I understand that no retest will be given before the trip. If I must stay on campus the day of the trip, I will be doing test and Reading Journal corrections for a grade.

Parenthetical Documentation (PD) example:

Plain quote:

"Valleys have ears, and some elves have over merry tongues" (Tolkien 50).

Quote within a quote:

"'It is about our turn to help,' said Balin, 'and I am quite willing to go...'" (Tolkien 236-37).

Middle Earth Reading Timeline

The Silmarillion, Unfinished Tales of Númenor and Middle Earth: Parts I, II, and III, and A Tolkien Treasury – are all separate books, but they interweave together on a chronological timeline. They tell of the Goblin Wars, Mordor and the forging of “the Ring,” the history of the Elves and history of the Dwarves and dragons.
1-2851

The Hobbit follows the dwarves, the ring, and the important journey of Bilbo Baggins.
2941-2949

The Lord of the Rings trilogy- follows the even more important journey of Frodo Baggins (a distant nephew of Bilbo and inheritor of the ring) to destroy the ring and the interminable battle he fights within himself against good and evil.

The Fellowship of the Ring
April 3018- Feb. 3019

The Two Towers
Feb. 3019- March 3019

The Return of the King
August 3018- May 3019

Whose Riddle?	Riddle	Drawn Answer to Riddle
	This thing all things devours: Birds, beasts, trees, flowers; Gnaws iron, bites steel; Grinds hard stones to meal; Slays king, ruins town, And beats high mountain down.
	What has roots as nobody sees, Is taller than trees Up, up it goes, And yet never grows?
	No-legs lay on one-leg, two legs sat near on three legs, four legs got some.
	An eye in a blue face Saw an eye in a green face. 'That eye is like to this eye' Said the first eye, 'But in low place Not in high place.'
	Alive without breath, As cold as death; Never thirsty, ever drinking, All in mail never clinking
	It cannot be seen, cannot be felt, Cannot be heard, cannot be smelt. It lies behind stars and under hills, And empty holes it fills. It comes first and follows after, Ends life, kills laughter.
	Thirty white horses on a red hill, First they champ, Then they stamp, Then they stand still.
	A box without hinges, key or lid, Yet golden treasure inside is hid.
	Voiceless it cries, Wingless flutters, Toothless bites, Mouthless mutters.
	What's in my pocket?

Chapters 6 and 7: These particular sets of notes are unstructured. You must do 5 notes for each chapter (making a total of 10). You may do the notes about whatever topics you want and you get to use them on your quiz. However, to get credit for the notes, they must be to the same standard as the ones we have been doing. Your notes must require you to think. Mere base knowledge level entries will not be accepted.

Be sure to write in complete sentences and to NOT use pronouns without antecedents.

If you do a drawing, be sure to use a title and label things.

Be sure to write the page # you are getting your information from on all notes.

Yes, you may do more than 5 notes per chapter, and yes, you can use any extra notes on your quiz.

The more you write and the more specific you are, the more information you will have to use on your quiz. You may use the following blank pages to do these notes.

*At least one note needs to be about the really cool, new character we meet, with a drawing!

1) What character? _____

2) What direct quote? (PD) _____

3) What is the quote directly implying about the character?

Page 213: When the text says that Bilbo "fought the real battle in the tunnel alone," what battle is the passage talking about (Tolkien 213)? And, what universal theme does this describe?

Page 213: Draw what Bilbo sees at the end of the tunnel. Title: you title it based on what you draw.

Page 215: Paraphrase a quote from your memory of this book that describes WHY the dragon noticed a cup missing out of a huge hoard of treasure.

Page 220: What is the author's purpose for his plot development in writing the paragraph that starts with "Old Smaug is weary..." (Tolkien)? It would be wise to make mention of some of the details of this paragraph and how they add to this type of plot development.

Page 221: What type of figurative language does Bilbo use to riddle the dragon with? Answer the question fully and be sure to give a direct quote as an example.

[I expected you would need help with this Post-it note, so here it is: (You're Welcome!)]

- Bilbo uses KENNINGS to riddle the dragon with. A kenning is a type of figurative language, which uses a metaphor to replace a common or proper noun. This type of figurative language is common in Anglo-Saxon and Norse Mythology where one's name and honor depended on one's accomplishments or their forefathers' accomplishments. Some examples of kennings that Bilbo uses to replace his name are: clue-finder, web-cutter, the stinging fly, Ringwinner, Luckwearer, Barrel-rider.... Notice that sometimes Tolkien will capitalize the kennings that he uses and sometimes he won't. Technically, if the kenning is being used to replace a person's name, it should be capitalized. When a kenning is used to replace a common noun, it should not be capitalized. Has Tolkien or his editors make a mistake? Hmmm. Maybe not. Look at the difference of when he uses an article (a, an, the) before his kenning and when he doesn't. What does this tell us about the English language when it comes to common and proper nouns? (The questions proposed in this paragraph were meant for rhetorical purposes only. Only answer what is asked of you in the part that is not bracketed.)]

Page 222: What is the dragon trying to alter in Bilbo's point of view? How is he trying to do it? Do you think Bilbo will believe him? Why or why not?

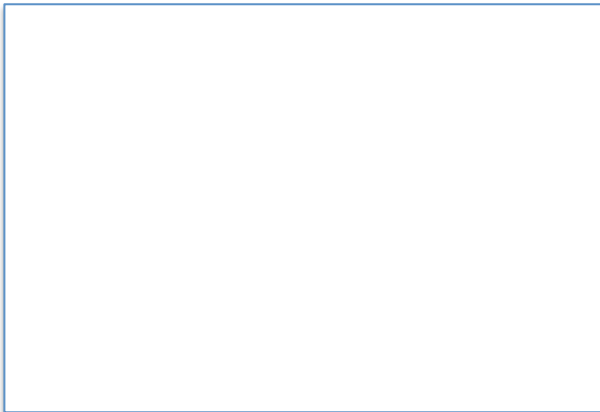

Page 223: What town in its "young days had been called Esgaroth"? _____

Page 224: What has Bilbo succeeded in doing that he told the dwarves he was going to do?

Page 227: Share your thoughts on the thrush, which has been around since Chapter 11. Seemingly insignificant, this watchful bird must have some purpose. Any guesses?

Page 228: Describe one instance from the past two pages where forethought is used in decision making.

Page 229: Describe and draw the Arkenstone. (This part in the parenthesis is not required on this note, but do you have any ideas as to why Tolkien might have named it this? What morphemes do you recognize as having meaning in this word?)

Page 231: Think about the Bilbo we met in Chapter 1. How can Biblo be seen as a dynamic character thus far in the book? Be sure to mention indirect characterization from both parts of the book: Ch. 1 and now. Your challenge here is to formulate a complete answer into one complete sentence without creating a run-on.

Chapter 13
